DETAILED ACTION

I. Applicant's Response:

- (a) Preliminary Amendment filed 5/5/2003 has been received and entered. The amendment deleted claims 2-20 and 22-156.
- (b) Claim 161 is newly added.
- (c) Claims 1, 21 and 157-160 have been amended.
- (d) Pending Claims are 1, 21 and 157-161.

II. Restriction/Election:

The restriction issued 1/28/2002 has been rendered moot in light of the preliminary amendment. Thus the restriction requirement has been withdrawn.

III. Rejections:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 21, 159 and 160 recites the limitation "compound of claim 1". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Claim 21 depends from claim 1, claims 159-160 depend from claim 21, thus ultimately depend from claim 1. Claim 21 recites a stereoisomer of compound of claim 1, however, claim 1 does not claim a stereoisomer of the compound. Hence, claim 21 and consequently claims 159-160 lack antecedent basis in claim 1. Amending claim 21 to an independent claim is suggested to obviate the above rejections.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 21 and 157-160 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 3 and 30 of U. S. Patent No. 5,767,144 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

Applicants claims relate to pyrrolidine-3-carboxylic acid compounds of formula I in claim 1.

Determination of the scope and content of the prior art (MPEP §2141.01)

'144 claims pyrrolidine-3-carboxylic acid compounds that are structurally similar to those instantly claimed. See claims 3, species therein and 30, col. 214, lines 15-30 and R substituent in col. 215, lines 10-20.

Ascertainment of the difference between the prior art and the claims (MPEP §2141.02)

The difference between the prior art and the instant claims is that the prior art claims an alkyl moiety at the corresponding R12 position of the instant claims, whereas the instant claims have a hydrogen at that position. Thus, making the difference one of secondary versus a tertiary amine.

Finding of prima facie obviousness---rationale and motivation (MPEP §2142-2413)

However, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the filing of the instant application to make additional useful pyrrolidine-3-carboxylic acid compounds similar to those claimed in '144 because the compounds claimed in the reference are so closely related to claimed compound that a chemist would find the difference an obvious variation; thus, claims are refused where the difference is primarily the one which exists between a secondary and a tertiary amine. Ex parte Bluestone, 135 USPQ 199 (1961).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

Art Unit: 1626

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 21 and 157-160 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over US Patent No. 5,767,144.

The applied reference has common inventors with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2).

Applicants claims relate to pyrrolidine-3-carboxylic acid compounds of formula I in claim 1.

Determination of the scope and content of the prior art (MPEP §2141.01)

'144 claims pyrrolidine-3-carboxylic acid compounds that are structurally similar to those instantly claimed. See claims 3, species therein and 30, col. 214, lines 15-30 and R substituent in col. 215, lines 10-20.

Ascertainment of the difference between the prior art and the claims (MPEP §2141.02)

The difference between the prior art and the instant claims is that the prior art claims an alkyl moiety at the corresponding R12 position of the instant claims, whereas the instant claims have a hydrogen at that position. Thus, making the difference one of secondary versus a tertiary amine.

Finding of prima facie obviousness---rationale and motivation (MPEP §2142-2413)

However, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the filing of the instant application to make additional useful pyrrolidine-3-carboxylic acid compounds similar to those claimed in '144 because the compounds claimed in the reference are so closely related to claimed compound that a chemist would find the difference an obvious variation; thus, claims are refused where the difference is primarily the one which exists between a secondary and a tertiary amine.
